John,

in 2012, the lease for the site expired. In 2013, the was was reclaimed but the Operator did not express an interest for Phase I bond release. Since 3 growing season have occurred since Phase I bond release the site may be eligible for final bond release.

If the site meets the requirements for final bond release does SITLA support the Division in unilaterally releasing the bond?

Yes, SITLA supports release of reclamation bonding for the Jon Young Torrey Buff Quarry. Thank you.
